

Psychology (SS2019)

Course Instructor(s):

Ms. Tayyaba Waseem, Ms. Faiza, Ms. Hafsa Azam, Ms.
Shafia Tabassum, Ms. Rabia, Ms. Sara Wali Khan

Section(s): 2024: BS-DS (A,B), BS-AI (A,B,C), BS-SE
(A,B,C), BS-CY (A,B)

Sessional-I Exam

Total Time (Hrs): 1

Total Marks: 30

Total Questions: 6

Date: Sep 23, 2025

241-2010

Roll No

Do not write below this line.

CY-A

Course Section

Adar

Student Signature

Attempt all the questions.

Part A

Q 1: Choose the correct option for the following statements:

/10

[CLO 1. Define the basic concepts of Psychology.]

1. Seeing a smooth, continuous line rather than abrupt changes illustrates which Gestalt principle?
 - a. Proximity
 - b. Continuity
 - c. Closure
 - d. Similarity
2. What is the duration of short-term memory (STM) for unrehearsed information?
 - a. A few milliseconds
 - b. 5 minutes
 - c. Up to about 20 seconds
 - d. Permanently
3. _____ error is a distortion or mistake in interpreting information from our environment.
 - a. Logical
 - b. Perceptual
 - c. Technical
 - d. Emotional
4. Thorndike's "Law of Effect" states that:
 - a. Behaviors followed by satisfying consequences are more likely to be repeated
 - b. Learning depends on observing others
 - c. Memory helps in retention of learning
 - d. Learning is a sudden insight
5. Habituation is an example of:
 - a. Non-associative learning
 - b. Associative learning
 - c. Cognitive learning
 - d. Observational learning

rational

National University of Computer and Emerging Sciences
Islamabad Campus

6. A psychologist is studying how workers in a factory stay motivated. Instead of analyzing their inner thoughts, she focuses on how praise from supervisors increases productivity and how penalties for mistakes reduce errors. Which school of psychology does this best represent?
- Structuralism
 - Functionalism
 - Behaviorism
 - Humanistic psychology
7. A survivor of a traumatic event suppressing memories to cope with the experience is an example of
- Retrieval Failure
 - Decay theory
 - Interference theory
 - Motivated Forgetting
8. Insight learning, proposed by Kohler, refers to:
- Gradual learning by trial and error
 - Sudden understanding of a solution to a problem
 - Learning through reinforcement
 - Memorization of facts
9. According to Freud, the part of personality that follows moral values and ideals is:
- Id
 - Ego
 - Superego
 - Libido
10. An employee misses a deadline. Later that day, his boss assigns him extra boring tasks to complete in his schedule.
This is an example of:
- Positive reinforcement
 - Positive punishment
 - Negative punishment
 - Negative reinforcement

[CLO 1. Define the basic concepts of Psychology.]

Q 2: Define learning. How do you differentiate classical and operant conditioning? Justify your answer with examples. [5 marks]

[CLO 1. Define the basic concepts of Psychology.]

Q 3: Differentiate between Law of Similarity and Law of Proximity. Explain with example. [3 marks]

[CLO 1. Define the basic concepts of Psychology.]

Q 4: How many types and sub-types of Long-Term Memory exist? Explain each with relevant examples. [5 marks]

Episodic
Semantic

Relevant
Proactive
[CLO 2. Describe a variety of major issues and theories in Psychology.]

Q 5: Alex has recently changed his email password. His old password was used for years, but he created a new one last week. Whenever he tries to recall his old password, the new password keeps coming to mind. Conversely, when he tries to recall his new password, he accidentally remembers the old one. Identify and explain the types of interference shown in Alex case. [4 marks]

[CLO 2. Describe a variety of major issues and theories in Psychology.]

Q 6. James is a fresh graduate who just got his first job in a new city. At first, he struggled to find a small apartment that he could afford and making sure he had enough money for groceries each week. He tried to find an apartment in a safe neighborhood where he had stable access to healthcare and reliable transportation. After some time, James started forming bonds with his colleagues. He joined their weekend sports club and began developing close friendships. With time, he became more confident in his skills at work and started aiming for promotions. Eventually, James began thinking beyond promotions and pay raises. He wanted to pursue meaningful goals, such as launching his own non-profit organization where he could use his skills to help others and reach his fullest potential. Describe Maslow's hierarchy of needs and using it explain James journey/progression through his new job. [3 marks]